How the Track of the Union Pacific Railroad is Laid

The Hon W. B. Ogden who returned from the West yesterday [illegible] the [illegible] of the Chicago University [illegible] of his visit [illegible] highest land of the [illegible] mountains [illegible] New York [illegible] New Orleans [illegible] the [illegible] of the Des[illegible] plains [illegible] river [illegible] a high [illegible] while another [illegible] will be carried into the Gulf of Mexico

Chicago [illegible] level of the sea [illegible] on the Mississippi [illegible] four feet higher Omaha [illegible] while the Black Hill at 8,[illegible] highest railroad in the world.

The gentleman [illegible] an enthusiastic description of the natural beauties of the country [illegible] and [illegible] at [illegible] agricultural [illegible] and [illegible] with an account of the laying of the track He had felt it his duty to see this great work in order to carry to our railroad friends in England the testimony of an eye-witness In company with a few scientific friends he had been permitted to visit the extreme end of the road A side track one mile in length is put down at every ten mile section, a telegraph tent is pitched and the world is within hearing of that station The caravan train has two boarding cars with accommodations for 500 men There were tents for the same number while some swung their hammocks under the cars The washing department and the bakery turning out six barrels of bread every day were in operation Guns were in order, and men trained to fight as well as to work The water tank stood on side track with its 50 tanks all connected by hose to a steam pump in the rear of the train A long train of ties was unloaded in five minutes by 50 workmen, while the boss was galloping everywhere among the busy company Large, fine looking mules took these ties down the track on short wagons and trotted back The engineer corps had stretched a cord, 100 feet long to mark the ends of the ties, which were thus laid accurately by stout men with an amazing rapidity Every man carries his tie alone and pockets $[illegible] a day for his work Then a car load of iron comes down to the end of the rail and is blocked Six men lay two rails these are guaged and spiked then the iron car is drawn over them and again blocked When empty this car is tipped over on its side

The six men will drop a rail with great precision, for little pegs are stuck 18 inches inside of the guage cord The ties are raised up to the iron if necessary and the side rail is guaged parallel to one already spiked In this manner Mr Ogden saw 4 miles and 180 rods laid in less than 8 hours These interesting facts were given with an enthusiasm almost fascinating, and his hearers testified their appreciation by frequent and hearty applause —Chicago Journal

Another Shakespeare Forgery

The Galaxy for November has an interesting account from the pen of Richard Grant White, of a recent detection of a notable forgery in Shakesperian literature

In 1842, Peter Cunningham, already noted as an antiquarian, edited a volume for the Shakespearian Society called Extracts from the Accounts of the Revels at Court in the reigns of Queen Elizabeth and King James I, from the original Office Book of the Masters and Yeomen." It was peculiarly interesting as containing on three pages of the account book for 1604 and 1605, records of the performances at the palace "by his Majestie's Plaiers" of these plays among others "The Moor of Venis," "A Play of the Merry Wives of Windsor," "A play called Mesur for Mesur," "The Play of Errors" "A Play of Love's Labours Lost" "Henry the Fift" "A Play of the Marchant of Venis," and in the margin, which professed to give the names of the Poets which made the Plaies" these were said to have been written by "Shaxberd" In another account—that for 1611 12—"A play called the Tempest," was recorded as having been performed on Hallowmas night, and one "called ye Winter Night's Tayle," as having been presented on the 4th of November

For twenty five years this record has been accepted by editors and critics of Shakespeare as authority for determining the dates of these plays But some three months ago Peter Cunningham himself, now an old man, reduced almost to idiocy by drink, brought to the British museum for sale an old manuscript volume which contained he said, records of great value about the old English drama, and which his friend, Mr Collier said was worth sixty guineas It proved to be one of the Revels Accounts which contained the record of the performance of those plays by Mr "Shaxberd" The volume was retained for examination, and was found to be public property The experts at the Audit Office at once discovered that, although the book was genuine the leaves containing the record of the performance of Shakespeare's plays were a forgery

It is now believed that they were forged by Mr Cunningham himself, who unquestionably purloined the book in his younger days

The chief result of this discovery is that the date of the composition, Measure for Measure, is found to be without external evidence to fix it and the critics may go to work to divine the state and age of Shakespeare's brain when it was written with no prospect of any such delightful harmony on this point as they have enjoyed of late in accepting the date fixed for it by them

A BIT OF HISTORY In one of the chapters of a new book written by an ex member of the Louisiana Tigers a noted New Orleans regiment in the Confederate army in which the battle of Gettysburg is treated of the following appears regarding the Democratic movements then anticipated

It was currently reported and fully believed through the army of Gen Lee that Mr Vallandigham and other leading Democrats of Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania had arranged a plan by which risings and riotous meetings should be organized on the 4th of July in all the great Northern cities The scheme failed except in New York, and there it came so late as to be of no avail in our behalf at the Gettysburg battle

A MAGNIFICENT STATION London may boast of the largest and most magnificent railway station in Europe if not in the world It was formally opened recently though still quite incomplete It is the terminus of the various branches of the Midland Railway, and has been some two or three years in construction Its dimensions are gigantic and its roof, seen from a distance dwarfs everything in the neighborhood The building is 700 feet in length 240 feet in width and 100 feet in height Its construction consumed 9,000 tons of iron 80,000 cubic feet of dressed stone and 60,000 of brick to say nothing of the many thousand feet of timber and glass It is already one of the sights of London and it is doubtful if it will ever be exceeded as no other company can ever require a building of such magnitude

SOLD AGAIN The Examiner of the 4th inst believing this State had gone for Seymour and Blair went off in this style

All hail California thou glorious golden haired daughter of Democracy Again thou hast covered thyself with immortal honors Again thou hast proved thyself true to the grand old party to which thou owest thy birth and thy birthright

We are inclined to think that there are a few snarls in the golden haired daughter of Democracy

It is now declared by a European more [illegible] useless knowledge that from 1586 to 1589 Shakspeare was a soldier in the Low Countries [illegible] Fifteen

Did he? Then it was very kind of him to impart his knowledge to Sterne —N Y Tribune.

William B Astor

THE RICHEST MAN IN AMERICA—AN EXPEDITION TO WEALTHY [illegible]—WILLIAM B ASTOR'S FORTUNE [illegible] DEVOTION TO BUSINESS—HIS LIFE AND HISTORY—PERSONAL APPEARANCE AND ESTATE

Specially Written for the Chicago Tribune
New York October 14

William B Astor is a [illegible] exception [illegible] the rule [illegible] rich men [illegible] with their fathers [illegible] love of earning [illegible] money and the [illegible] hereditary virtues in the Astors and the immense wealth that old John Jacob [illegible] is likely to remain in the family for generations

AN EXPEDITION AND THE LIFE

William B Astor's life is a little but his property is great His chief distinction is that he is the son of John Jacob Astor As such he is known as such he will be remembered If required as has been claimed [illegible] to take care [illegible] is not equal to the father William B has been preserved by his temperament from all extravagances and excesses He has the cool head and calm blood of his German ancestors, to whom irregularity was unknown and temptation impossible.

Associated in business with his father from his early years he learned his habits and followed his example The power and benefit of money being one of the first things he was taught, it is not strange he has remembered his early lesson through all his years Instead of decreasing the wealth he inherited he has largely increased it and he has been for years the richest citizen of the United States He is as careful of his vast property as if he were not worth a hundred dollars, and to day in his seventy sixth year he takes more note of a trifling expenditure than a clerk whose annual salary is not much beyond his hourly income

JOHN JACOB ASTOR

Every one knows how John Jacob Astor at the age of twenty left his village home in Baden, so poor that he walked to the nearest seaport with a small bundle containing all his worldly goods, spent his last penny for a passage in the steerage, sailed for New York, and would have arrived here with nothing but youth and health, had he not sold on the voyage half a dozen flutes given him by his brother in London For the flutes he received $12, and having made the acquaintance of a furrier on board the ship and talked with him about the trade he invested his small capital on debarking in furs from that small beginning, he steadily and rapidly rose, until he founded the American Fur Company sent his ships to every sea and died worth $50 000 000

DEVOTION TO BUSINESS

But few know how William the son has, during the twenty years since his father's death, devoted himself constantly to swell the fortune, whose income is more than any one man should have He has little life outside of his mortgages and investments, and at an age when most good citizens are sleeping quietly in their graves, indifferent to securities or titles he is hard at work in his back office closing every crevice through which a dollar might slip

Many persons wonder why men of great fortune continue to labor, instead of resting and enjoying themselves, and attribute it to mere love of gain They do not remember that long habit becomes second nature, that such men find rest in constant occupation, and that the enjoyment prescribed for them would be the severest punishment that could be inflicted

For more than fifty years William B Astor has been a daily worker at his desk Sentence him to idleness to morrow, and before the Christmas chimes were rung from Trinity, the family lot in Greenwood would have another occupant.

CHANGES OF SEVENTY SIX YEARS.

Astor was born in a small brick house, built by his father and occupied as a fur store, but long since torn down, at the corner of Broadway and Vesey—the site of the present Astor House He has seen wonderful changes in the city and the world When he was a babe New York had a population of not more than thirty thousand souls our Revolution had just ended George Washington was still alive Thomas Jefferson was President of the United States, Bonaparte was unknown, Frederick the Great had very recently died, the French Revolution was thrilling the time with horror, Vesey street was in the country Bowling Green the centre of trade, Wall street and its vicinity the quarter for fashionable residences, and the republic itself a handful of feeble States that were still suffering from the struggle that had given them their independence

CHARACTER

Astor was carefully educated by his father, and, after leaving college travelled in Europe, where, it is said he spent less than a quarter what his parent had allowed him After his return he went into business with John Jacob, and became more watchful of his interests and more careful of his money than the old man himself, who was never accused of any extraordinary carelessness in that respect Though presumptive heir to a great estate he lost no opportunity to look out for himself, and at his father's decease, was individually worth $6,000 000 He is declared, by those who ought to know, to be less liberal than his father—no spendthrift by any means—and a man of less kindly feeling and less generous sympathy He is reported to be very charitable on occasions but he rarely gives to those who solicit charity and his brusque refusal of the constant petitioners for assistance of all kinds through a series of years has earned for him the reputation of extreme closeness if not penuriousness To common beggars and seekers for subscriptions he turns a deaf ear, and the fact is now so well known that he escapes much of the annoyance to which accessible rich men are perpetually subjected He makes it a rule I have been told never to give anything during the hours of business and always to investigate every case earnestly brought to his notice If he finds it worthy he is reasonably liberal but privately so having no ambition to gain a reputation that would prove troublesome, not to say expensive

I have no reason to doubt this indeed I am inclined to believe it for many persons give from their vanity, while others who are silently charitable pass for the very opposite in public opinion

Still Astor cannot be regarded as a liberal man, considering the immense wealth and the superabundant opportunities it gives him for doing good in his native city where the Greeks are ever at his door Of course he has a perfect right to do as he chooses with his own He knows that too and follows his humor The public is very exacting of the wealthy who are roundly abused when they decline to open their purses as it directs They are so besieged and badgered with applicants and applications [illegible] posed on and cajoled that it is not strange that they grow callous Even Astor and Stewart, if they responded to all the calls upon them for aid would be beggared before a twelvemonth But there is so little probability of their responding that it is not needful to expend any sympathy in anticipation

THE PRINCE STREET OFFICE

Astor's office is in Prince street Broadway, a one story brick with heavy shutters, that remind you of a village bank The office has two rooms and he occupies the rear one very plainly even meagerly furnished which he enters punctually every morning at ten o'clock, rarely leaving his desk before four in the afternoon He is not shut away, as Stewart is His bank can be seen by any one entering the office and any one can step in and see his face, also if he be so minded To those who pay him a visit he is so chary of words as to seem impolite

He usually waits to be addressed but if he is not he turns a cold face upon the visitor, and says "Your business sir"

If it be an application for charity in nine cases out of ten he stops the story before it is half told with "I can do nothing for you sir" and resumes his work

If it is an application for reduction of rent or for the sale of property he generally answers "No, sir" and relapses into silence from which it is difficult to arouse him

If he is annoyed by further speech, he says curtly and brusquely "I am busy I have no time to talk" and there the interview ends Few persons [illegible] to stay in his presence which to strangers is [illegible] than the Morgue at midnight or a tomb's one on a winter day

Astor has none of his father's liking for trade He deals altogether in real estate and in leases of property owned by Trinity Church, a corporation worth $100,000,000. He has a wonderful memory He can tell every square foot of property he owns the exact date at which each lease expires and the amount due on it to a penny He very rarely sells any of his property but he is buying constantly and will be to his dying day, though it cannot be many years before he will be compelled to exchange all his valuable sites and acres for a three by seven lot in the corner of Long Island He scarcely ever improves any of his real estate He buys it for an advance and lets it go only when he thinks it has reached its maximum rate

PRIVATE RESIDENCE

Astor lives in Lafayette place not far from Astor place, in a handsome though somewhat old fashioned brick house adjoining Astor Library His residence was built for and given to him by his father Most fashionable and wealthy people have moved up town but he is conservative averse to change and will breathe his last under that roof He is temperate in all things, and has always taken excellent care of his health, but he likes a good dinner and a bottle of wine, and sitting long at table His is not a very sociable or gregarious nature but he gives elaborate dinner parties and often has company at his house As an entertainer few surpass him On a social occasion his plate is the most massive, his viands the costliest, and his wines the richest to be found in New York

GENERAL APPEARANCE.

He is very fond of walking, going from his home to his office and back almost invariably on foot. He is a tall man, fully six feet, of heavy frame, large and rather coarse features, small eyes cold and sluggish looking much more German than American, nothing distinguished or noticeable about him, whom no one would suppose as old as he is by about fifteen years. He has a strong constitution and is in vigorous health and may see his hundredth birthday. He has two sons John Jacob and William B Astor, Jr both of whom are as close applicants to business as their father, and several daughters, all married to wealthy gentlemen. Mrs Astor who is the daughter of General Armstrong, James Madison's Secretary of War, is a woman of culture and accomplishment, and lends grace and dignity to her husband's hospitality.

IMMENSE WEALTH

William B Astor's wealth cannot be accurately determined He does not know himself, but it is probably $65 000 000 or $70 000 000 perhaps $80 000 000 or $90,000 000 It increases largely every year by reason of the advance in property, and may nearly double in value before his death. His income is greatly disproportioned to his fortune because he owns such a large amount of unproductive real estate He has much property that even his sons know nothing of, and, like his father seems unwilling to have any one understand the immensity of his riches It is said he is very anxious to live to see how many of his investments will turn out, but at seventy-six that rare pleasure cannot be forever enjoyed

The Springfield (Mass) Republican says a man and his wife who live in a tenement in that city, have not spoken to each other for several years, and they are not dumb, either. It is merely a little matter of spunk, to see who will hold out longest When the man wants to say anything to his wife he addresses his remarks to his little son, who also acts as the medium through which the wife communicates with her husband.

The Result in the State

Later returns [illegible] reliable [illegible] that the State [illegible] though [illegible] still [illegible] Democratic majority [illegible] Baker [illegible] Democratic majority [illegible] county shows only [illegible] the vote [illegible] being 84 for Grant and 1[illegible] for Seymour The Blue Mountain [illegible] the Democratic majority in Umatilla [illegible] 1[illegible]7 as reported a few days ago Recent intelligence from Coos and Curry indicates a Republican majority in those counties of 150 This report [illegible] reliable A few other changes of [illegible] are reported since our last table was published We have as yet received nothing of a reliable character from Grant county The following table of majorities contains the latest estimates we have been able to make

	GRANT	SEYMOUR
Baker		164
Benton		13
Clackamas	81
Clatsop	35
Columbia		90
Coos and Curry	150
Douglas	106
Grant
Jackson		231
Josephine		71
Lane		110
Linn		220
Marion	525
Multnomah	123
Polk	12
Tillamook	25
Umatilla		189
Union		248
Washington	192
Wasco		96
Yamhill	69
	1,218	1 241

This estimate shows a Democratic majority of 23 which we think is likely to be somewhat increased It may however result otherwise, and an official count may give the State to the Republicans by a few votes In any event the Democratic majority cannot be over 50 Though the chances are undoubtedly against us we do not regard them as altogether hopeless

The Electoral Vote

The following table shows about how the electoral vote stands between the parties In a full Electoral College there would be 317 votes but as Virginia, Mississippi and Texas are excluded, the College will contain only 294 votes, 148 of which are necessary to a choice.

FOR GRANT AND COLFAX

California	6	Connecticut	6
Florida	3	Illinois	16
Indiana	13	Iowa	8
Kansas	3	Maine	7
Massachusetts	12	Michigan	8
Minnesota	4	Missouri	11
Nebraska	3	Nevada	3
New Hampshire	5	North Carolina	9
Ohio	21	Pennsylvania	26
Rhode Island	4	South Carolina	6
Tennessee	10	Vermont	5
West Virginia	5	Wisconsin	8
			201

FOR SEYMOUR AND BLAIR

Delaware	3	Georgia	9
Kentucky	11	Louisiana	7
Maryland	7	New Jersey	7
New York	33	Oregon	3
			80

STILL DOUBTFUL.

Arkansas	5	Alabama	8

We have classed Oregon with the Seymour States, though it may yet possibly give a majority for Grant. If Arkansas, Alabama, and Oregon should all vote for Grant and Colfax, Seymour and Blair would receive scarcely more than one quarter of the Electoral College

The Advance Guard.

The Boise Statesman of the 7th inst, notices the arrival at that place of Mr Hudnutt, who has charge of a party locating a route for the Idaho and Columbia river branch of the Union Pacific Railroad We quote from the Statesman's article

> Mr. Hudnutt has a party of eighteen picked men now exploring the country between Snake river and Boise valley They will reach here in about three weeks He reports the route from the junction at Promontory Rock to the crossing of Snake river as good as could be desired, and from the latter point to Boise valley it is nearly if not equally as good His instructions are to explore the country as far as possible this winter, towards the Columbia river, and report to the company. Mr Hudnutt is an elderly gentleman of plain business like manners, and altogether just such a man as one would wish to see in charge of any great business enterprise in any country
> We learned from him many facts not necessary to repeat, but there is one thing about which we feel good That is, the Union Pacific Railroad is coming About that there is no mistake Idaho is not to be left out in the cold two hundred miles from any place, as was contemplated by the Central and the North Pacific, but right through the best portion of the Territory right down Snake river and Boise valleys will run the great Pacific railroad Mr Hudnutt is the foremost scout of the advance guard of that magnificent enterprise He is the first live representative of any practical railroad interest who ever reached this city, and we note his arrival as the beginning of the realization of our four years' hopes that the great railroad would eventually follow the track nature designed it should

ELEMENTS OF SUCCESS Every attentive observer will admit that the Democratic party has two principles which are not only elements of great strength, but are positively meritorious These two principles of strength in that party are discipline and justice to their own men These are great merits and we have never underrated them They preserve the strength of a party, and they reward the services of those to whom a party is chiefly indebted for its success. An infusion of them into the Republican party would contribute powerfully to its strength and permanence That party has often failed to do justice to its own men, and it has by this course neglected one of the principal elements which contribute to party success and power

The Herald is still trying to prove that its party is not responsible for the war But here is a confession which Democrats cannot deny Robert Toombs of Georgia in a speech at Atlanta, said "I will tell you another fact which is enough for this time that as the late war was produced by the defeat of the Democratic party in 1860 so we shall never have peace until it is restored to power in 1868 Will the Herald be candid enough to give this confession its special attention?

Before the election a leading Democratic journal said "After Seymour's election the Radical organization resting on no great principle of liberty or of public morals will rapidly disperse each leader seeking his own safety and interest by choosing his own separate path of retreat Only think that the party whose organs talked in this bold manner has itself become in the classic language of a celebrated character "a burst lamp [illegible]"

The San Francisco Times says that city has expended on small pox during the last five months the great sum of $54[illegible]000 The number of deaths in that time from the disease has been 2[illegible] The Times in a long article [illegible] correctly up to the city authorities to take more effective measures for the suppression of the disease

It is understood that the Democrats are already beginning their preparations for the next political campaign in this county Hons Lansing Stout and Joseph Kelly will be among the most active managers

The Overland Monthly for November is received and presents an excellent table of contents This magazine fully sustains itself and is building up a wide reputation.

The Precious Metals

According to the calculations of political economists the increased production of gold and silver must result in the increase of prices Yet practical observers state that this reduction of the value of the precious metals is counteracted by the demand made for gold and silver to be used as money in countries where heretofore copper has been the principal medium of exchange The railroads of India require a large amount of capital for their construction and this capital it is asserted can and will be absorbed by the people of that country without disturbing the exchangeable value of the precious metals among the nations of the earth In proof of this assertion a comparison is drawn by an English economist between France and India He shows that in 1857 India with a population of 180 000 000, had a circulating medium of $400 000 000 or $2 22 a head France on the other hand with a population of 38 000 000 had a money supply $940 000 000 or $21 a head If now, India should attain to as high a degree of commercial activity as France and if the current supplies of bullion since 1857 have brought her circulating medium up to $1 a head there will still remain before the condition of France is attained a difference of $21 a head, or a sum for the entire population equal to $4,000,000 000 Commerce, accelerated by the increasing developments of human industry and progress of the arts in the East, it is asserted, will easily absorb all the mineral surplus of the United States The cotton trade of India took from India $500,000 000 almost entirely in silver, in seven years, and the extension of railways and construction of works of irrigation absorbed an equal sum during the same period There were 3 186 miles of railway in operation in 1865, and 4,917 additional miles have since been laid out at an estimated cost of $387,000 000 In China, Australia and Japan similar improvements are being undertaken which will require an immense capital to carry them on Under these circumstances, it is contended that the increased product of gold and silver in the United States and Australia will not affect prices to an appreciable extent

Orders have been received by Col Williamson at San Francisco, to take possession of Point Reyes and erected a lighthouse thereon The Government was willing to pay a fair compensation for the Point, but the owners demanded $50,000 Their cupidity overreached itself, and the Government will now pay nothing whatever

Will the Unionist, if it isn't too much trouble give a statement of the vote of Marion county in the late election? It surely wouldn't be a very great job to give the public this information. We have been waiting almost two weeks for it We believe it isn't very far from the Unionist's place to the Court House or the office of the Secretary of State

It is estimated that the production of sugar for 1867 was 5,151,289,000 pounds Nearly one third of this supply was produced by Cuba Great Britain, with her colonies, and the United States, consume more than half the sugar of the world

THE FRAUD AND "NIGGER" PARTY — But for false naturalization papers in the North, and the negroes in the South, Kentucky and Maryland are the only States Seymour and Blair could have carried.

The New Middle States

[From the Philadelphia Ledger]

The Atlantic Almanac, for 1869, contains an article on that part of our Republic drained by the Mississippi, which on many accounts, is worthy of attention, as connected with the future prospects of increase and wealth of the whole country Not very long after the settlement of Boston, persons employed to explore the country and lay out the public roads, reported that they had done so as far as they believed would ever be necessary, which was about seven miles west of Cambridge This, to them, was the beginning of the great West The settlements afterwards made in the valley of the Connecticut removed the limit a little farther The Indian war and the revolution carried it to the Ohio, in our latitude, and to the Mohawk, further north then it soon advanced to the Mississippi, and still further away to the Missouri, and the Mexican war and the discovery of gold in California removed the boundary of our great West to the Pacific ocean The States in the valleys watered by the Mississippi and its tributaries may therefore, now be justly termed the "Middle States

The Atlantic seaboard of the United States extends about 2,500 miles, and the Mississippi and its tributaries open up an inland navigation of 30,000 miles, upon the bosom of which is now floating an amount of commerce three times as great in value as the whole foreign commerce of the country In former times the trade with foreign ports was looked upon as a most important interest It is now dwarfed by the transportation and handling of domestic produce for domestic markets In 1860 the entire product of the United States was $1 990,000,000 Its exports were less than one-fifth of this amount, leaving four fifths to be exchanged between the States It has been said that at the present time not more than one-fifteenth of the business of New York city is based upon foreign commerce

The Mississippi drains 1,785,000 square miles, which is more than half the number of square miles in the whole United States, and the surface contains 768,000,000 acres of the finest land in the world It has space for one hundred and fifty States the size of Massachusetts, and were its population in the same proportion, it would contain more than five times the present population of the whole United States. At this time not more than one acre in five is under cultivation, and the vast resources of coal and minerals have hardly begun to be fairly developed The fourteen States which comprise this region claim (though without reason) that they pay more than one half the taxes, and that they work more than half the improved land and have a majority of the population of the United States The value of the annual commerce of the Mississippi is estimated at $2 000,000,000 and the Agricultural Bureau, basing its calculations upon past results estimates that in the year 1900 the cereal products of the West will amount to more than 3 000,000,000 bushels

The values of the crops, as well as of the productions of the mine and the forest depend mainly on facilities for transportation, either natural or artificial The Mississippi is but one of the outlets of the vast region through which it passes The great lakes open a wide belt of this country, and canals and railroads bring almost every farm within easy distance of natural navigation The estimated cost of conveying a ton of merchandise a mile on the oceans is from half a cent one and a half cents on the lakes, two cents, on the canals two to five cents, and on railroads, from three cents to thirteen and a half cents Of the amount of grain received at Chicago, seventy five per cent comes by rail road, but from that city only ten per cent is sent East by railroad while ninety per cent is sent by the lakes The merchants manufacturers and consumers of the East have an interest in reducing the cost of transportation to the lowest possible point and this cannot be easily effected by improving the water communications Cheap transportation is a vital necessity to our whole country, and if it is secured the resources of the vast and fertile regions, even further West, will be developed as surely as time endures, and more rapidly than we can at present imagine

Political Intelligence

CHICAGO Nov 10 —A movement is said to be on foot among prominent Democrats to have the Democratic electors vote for Grant, so as to make his election unanimous

The following circular was addressed to Pendleton General Preston, A H Stephens and other prominent Democrats Washington, Nov 5th Gentlemen In my judgment the wisest thing the Democracy could now do would be to throw their entire vote for Grant as indicative of the fact that should he pursue a liberal, generous and magnanimous course they will sustain him and it would also have the effect of not leaving him altogether in the hands of an adverse faction and would doubtless strengthen any purpose he may entertain towards conservative sentiments Certainly this vote cannot possibly do Seymour any good, and if thrown in the manner suggested would at least produce a conciliatory impression

Financial Matters

A special from New York says there was considerable excitement on Wall street, owing to the circulation of a Washington dispatch Saturday that the Secretary of the Treasury had determined to reissue greenbacks to relieve the market This morning it is uncertain whether the Secretary will avail himself of that power He has reversed his opinion as to the reduction of the 3 per cents being not reissuable The Assistant Treasurer has no advices of the Secretary having changed his policy about 3 per cents, but various rumors have caused uncertainty Discounting operations have almost entirely suspended in the streets There was a steady accumulation of paper in the hands of dealers which if relief does not come soon, must produce serious inconvenience to merchants Government bonds sympathize with the unsettled condition of the money market Prices opened at 103 and 104 per cent as best prices on Saturday, with large offerings for "bear" effect, but at noon the call was an improvement of ¼ and ½ per cent There appears to be considerable short interests outstanding with a disposition to increase it Stocks opened at a decline of ¼ to ⅛ per cent in leading shares as compared with the closing of Saturday evening

In Iowa, careful estimates make Grant's majority 50 000,

In Minnesota, Wilson is probably elected to Congress in the Second District over Donnelly by a few hundred The Republicans have a large majority in the Legislature, and it is thought Donnelly will be elected U S Senator

In Connecticut (official) Grant's majority is 3,039

South Carolina, Republican majority, 90,000

Louisiana Matters.

NEW YORK, Nov 10 —The Tribune's New Orleans special says the Republican State Convention has unanimously resolved that the administrations of Generals Rousseau and Buchanan are reprehensible in that they manifested sympathy with and partiality for the rebel Democrats

The Money Panic

CHICAGO, Nov 12 —A New York special says there was an improved tone in all the markets at the opening, but afterwards it was reported that the banks were large creditors at the clearing house, which was accepted as another indication of greenbacks looking up, and everything declined, and there was an increased pressure to sell in all directions. There is a feeling of great uneasiness in regard to the future Markets are influenced by every rumor—it being known that it is in the power of the combination to draw their money from the banks at any time and thereby creating a stringency It is feared there will be serious trouble to morrow.

The Cuban Fillibustering Scheme

NEW YORK, Nov 12 —The United States officials are investigating the Cuban fillibustering scheme, but no arrests are made Col Gibbons, the chief officer, says he has two millions in bank stock, and has been presented with three war ships and four steamers The expedition will sail in detachments and be detailed at some convenient point near Havana.

Correspondence confirms the report that Puerto has risen in revolt, and five war vessels have been ordered to depart immediately for the scene of insurrection Aginza, a prominent leader of the rebels is believed to have gone to Seward to urge the expediency of recognizing them as belligerents The government authorities in Havana are quiet about the progress of the rebellion and it is believed that they are forced to confess themselves unable to subjugate the insurgents, who are supplied with arms from St Domingo

Miscellaneous

MILWAUKEE, Nov 10 —Quite a panic prevailed in business circles to day in consequence of the failure of the Wisconsin State Bank, hitherto considered one of the soundest banks in the city Its liabilities are very heavy, the bank having discounted largely on wheat Paper runs were made on the other banks, but no serious trouble is anticipated

NEW YORK, Nov 10 —The steamer Alaska sailed for Aspinwall to day with 1 200 passengers, including Bishop Kip She carries locomotives and railroad iron for the Central Pacific Railroad

New England Items

SPRINGFIELD, (Mass), Nov 13 —A difficulty has arisen between the Faculty and students of Williams' College in regard to the abolition of the marking system All but three or four students have withdrawn Neither party show any signs of concession

Rev Francis Thompson was ordained to day as Pastor of the First Church in Hilo, Sandwich Islands, and will sail November 14th

Railroad Matters.

WASHINGTON, Nov 12 —A meeting of persons interested in a direct line of railroad and a connection with Cincinnati, and the West, so as to procure independence of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad and a riddance of the forty cent tax imposed by that road on passengers between Baltimore and Washington, was held last night A committee was appointed to procure the necessary charters

BY ATLANTIC CABLE

MADRID, Nov 10 —A correspondent says it is reasonable to expect that the Spanish government will at an early day conclude treaties of peace with Chile and Peru It attributes the happy results to the medium of the United States and to the sympathy aroused in Spain in consequence of the destitution in Peru and Chile by the recent earthquakes

NEW YORK Nov 10 —A Warsaw special says the peasants of Volhynia have revolted against the Russian commander

A Berlin special says the opening debate of the Prussian Diet indicates an increased majority

A Constantinople special says several conspirators in the plot to assassinate the Sultan, have been arrested The plot was originated by Catholics Musselmen and others

MADRID Nov 10 —Marshal Serrano has nominated twenty one councellors of State and Justices of the Peace have been appointed in all the provinces of Spain Popular demonstrations have been made in the Balearic and Canary Islands in favor of religious toleration Petitions have been sent here praying the issue of a decree establishing freedom of public worship

LONDON Nov 12 —It is announced that Rev Thomson D D now Archbishop of York succeeds the late Rev Chas Thos Stangley Archbishop of Canterbury The Rev Moberf [illegible] D D new Bishop of Oxford, succeeds the vacant see of York The parliamentary elections have commenced Full and extensive measures for protection against disturbance at the hustings have been taken

BY STATE TELEGRAPH

SALEM Nov 13 —The Republicans are having a jubilee here to night The town is brilliantly illuminated Owing to the strong wind and rain, no torch light procession will be had Speaking is now going on at the "Wigwam" In consequence of the weather, the attendance is not large, but as much as could be expected.

A BRIGHT PROSPECT FOR NEVADA —The Virginia City Enterprise the champion of the Democracy of Nevada, says

> Now that the excitement of the election has passed and gone there is something besides politics to which the attention of the people may be turned All of us residing in this State no matter how much we may differ on political questions, have a great interest in the welfare and prosperity of Nevada We believe that during the coming year the Silver State of Nevada will increase not only in wealth, but also in population The railroad is fast being built across the State, and at no remote time we shall have a rail connection both with San Francisco and New York Rich mineral deposits are constantly being discovered in every part of Nevada, and we are of opinion that the remarkably rich bodies of silver that, within the past seven months have been discovered at White Pine and other places in Eastern Nevada are only indicative of the mineral wealth of that portion of Nevada We believe that this State is the centre of the vast mining region of the Great American Basin and that we have seen but the beginning of the prosperity and wealth of Nevada Everything looks bright in Nevada, and let no one think of leaving the country on account of the late election

It is seldom that a Democratic paper speaks either sensibly or honestly that we append, with pleasure the following extract from the Corinth (Miss) News a well known Democratic sheet

> We venture the assertion that in the event of General Grant's election (which we conceive to be almost certain) he will prove one of the wisest and most charitable Presidents we have ever had He is no extremist We have no reason to believe but that he will act honestly and justly by the South, and will use his immense power and influence in restoring peace and prosperity to the whole country We will be reconstructed on the Congressional plan, but if we act wisely, a just and honorable reconstruction to all can take place We expect to live and die in the South, and of course desire its prosperity and as such feel no hesitancy in saying that we are willing to risk General Grant as Chief Magistrate of this great country for the next four years and do not doubt but that a majority of our people will feel as we do in less than a twelvemonth, although their prejudice may prevent them at present from believing so

FRAUDULENT VOTES —The San Francisco Bulletin says

> It is now apparent that a greater number of fraudulent votes were cast at the recent election than ever before at least since the days of ballot box stuffing The number of such votes has been estimated by good judges as high as 15,000 for the city, and 2,000 for the rest of the State In Santa Cruz county it is known that a large number of those votes were polled Others have been traced to towns in the Third Congressional District (Johnson's) We learn that the whole matter will undergo the most thorough investigation Those who have been guilty of these outrages, no matter to which party they belong should be dealt with without fear or favor No such crime is committed upon a sudden impulse It is deliberately planned and generally a long time before the election In all instances where there is good ground to suppose that elections have been carried by fraud, it is the duty of good citizens to see that a thorough investigation is made

GENERAL GRANT'S POLICY —Any indication of the policy General Grant will adopt is now sought with peculiar interest The New York Times of Oct 21st says

> At the great Republican meeting in this city last evening, Brewster of Pennsylvania made a memorable statement. He said that President Grant (for we may speak thus of our candidate) recently addressed a friend in these words "This much I wish, and I declare this to be my policy That such a degree of peace and tranquillity shall exist in this country that a man may speak his mind in any part of our great land, and that without molestation or hindrance" Here then is one fundamental and vital point of the policy of our next President It is a golden 'plank' for a Presidential platform

POOR MENKEN —We learn from a private source, says a correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle, that the Parisian physician who attended Miss Menken in her last illness declares that the consumption which terminated in her death was caused by the strap with which she was bound to the horse as "Mazeppa" It is a singular coincidence that the first words of her book of poems, which had been in press for some months before she was taken ill, but only appeared a few days after she died, are, "Yes, I am dead!" It is rapidly running through large editions and amid all its wild, unpruned rhapsody, contains here and there a poem which is such a gem that it is almost impossible to believe that the hapless equestrian actress, of whose short comings the tongue of scandal has prated so loudly could have been its author

The paper says Mr [illegible] Chief Engineer [illegible] his surveying party has jus[illegible] through [illegible] and are making as rapidly as pos[illegible] straight line for Puget Sound. [illegible] informed that it is his intention to halt at Lewis ri[illegible] run back [illegible] Columbia river, at a point n[illegible] Washougal The [illegible] made that a better point to cross the Columbia riv[illegible] found at Sandy Island and thence [illegible] by the way of the Lackamas [illegible] which lies [illegible] is a most excellent route for a r[illegible] He has said there is nothing certain but dea[illegible] taxes till you make it certain Drive the nail [illegible] the head and clinch it well on the other side, [illegible] have a [illegible] and not before How is this [illegible] [illegible] by striking while the [illegible] [illegible] till the job is done No [illegible] is one aspect of the case that everybody may no[illegible] thought of and it is this It is as we are [illegible] [illegible] the desire of the [illegible] make the road as nearly straight as practicable, from the point where [illegible] cross the Columbia river to Puget Sound Now [illegible] just what we want provided we can command the cr[illegible] at this point That will make this substantial[illegible] head of navigation, and make [illegible] worth ten dollars to one that it is worth now [illegible] not fair nor to be expected that all this [illegible] be conferred for nothing and if people stand [illegible] expect they will almost surely be [illegible] road go straight through, there are heavy [illegible] in passing the [illegible] of it would lie beyond the Lewis river, and [illegible] greater benefit to be [illegible] on them by the adopt[illegible] this route the people of V[illegible] can well afford, and they [illegible] which would not only [illegible] the Com[illegible] but aid them [illegible] which would be avoided by [illegible] the heavy [illegible] route of the Columbia river [illegible] thereto.

SALT—BACON—HAMS—BUTTER, ETC.—It has alw[illegible] been a matter of wonder and [illegible] that Ore[illegible] bacon hams butter etc., should always [illegible] market in such a condition as to [illegible] ferior to the same articles put up in [illegible] in the Eastern States It has been attributed to [illegible] manipulation to tricks of speculators and various oth[illegible] causes Notwithstanding all that has been said, [illegible] everybody's make of all the [illegible] ferior in the market There is a [illegible] other than the natural [illegible] article. Our [illegible] in the markets This [illegible] and State make is not [illegible] made in the States or [illegible] and, but nearly always [illegible] and of good [illegible] experienced dealer, [illegible] attributes the [illegible] etc. to the almost [illegible] salt. Route of the Puget Sound Railroad.—The Vancouver Register is discussing the question whether Vancouver is to be on or [illegible] and takes the [illegible] it depend on the location of the [illegible] of the Puget Sound Railroad. It thinks a crossing of the river below that town would convert Vancouver into a first class [illegible], while if the [illegible] Vancouver river and [illegible] the Columbia to [illegible] Bluff, Vancouver would be only an obscure way station. What it wants is that the road shall cross at Vancouver and run out directly across the country to Olympia. The paper says: "Mr Brooks, Chief Engineer, with his surveying party has just passed through town and are making as rapidly as possible for Lewis river in a straight line for Puget Sound. We are [illegible] that it is his intention to halt at Lewis river and [illegible] back to the Columbia river at a point near the mouth of the Washougal. The suggestion has been made that a better point to cross the Columbia river than this, can be found at Sandy Island and thence to Lewis river by the way of the Lackamas bottom, the level land which lies beyond is a most excellent route for a railroad. Be this as it may, there is nothing certain but death and [illegible], till you make it certain. Drive the nail well to the head, and clinch it well on the other side, and you have a sure thing and not before. How is this to be done? Simply gentlemen by striking while the iron is hot," and not letting up till the job is done. Now there is [illegible] of the case that everybody may not have thought of, and it is this. It is as we are reliably informed, the desire of the contractors Messrs [illegible] to make the road straight through if possible, or as straight as practicable from the point where they [illegible] the Columbia river to Puget Sound. Now this is just what we want provided we can command the crossing at this point. That will make this substantially the head of navigation and make every man's property worth ten dollars to one that it is worth now. But it is [illegible] not to be expected that all this benefit should be [illegible] for nothing and if people stand still and [illegible] it, they will almost surely be mistaken. If the road go straight through there are heavy expenses to be [illegible] the unfavorable country, to say the least [illegible] lies beyond the Lewis river, and for the [illegible] to be conferred on them by the adoption of this [illegible], the people of Vancouver and Clarke county, [illegible] afford, and they ought to exhibit a hearty liberality which would not only encourage the Company [illegible] them materially in meeting the heavy expense [illegible] would be avoided by adopting the more level [illegible] the Columbia river bottom, or a line adjacent [illegible]

Vancouver Items.—From the Register we learn that at [illegible] meeting of the members of the Clarke County [illegible] Society, the following persons were elected [illegible] of Managers for the year beginning January 1st, [illegible] President Lewis Van Vleet; 1st Vice President [illegible] Maxon; 2d Vice President John Timmons; Secretary Julius Stiltz; Treasurer James Davidson; Executive Committee, S R Whipple, A McAndrew, T J [illegible], William Goodwin, John Bozarth, D W Ken[illegible], William Palmer, Levi Douthit, G C Stiles and A [illegible]. The Constitution was amended so as to provide for a Corresponding Secretary, and Mr I T Maxle was chosen to that office. The Board of Managers was instructed by resolution to purchase for a fair ground, [illegible] known as Harney's Place. The articles of [illegible] were amended so as to provide for the [illegible], at each annual meeting, of one Committee [illegible] from the county of Skamania. A similar proposition to Cowlitz county was voted down. [illegible] Chief Engineer of the O C R R visited [illegible] Mr H C Morse, of this city, received a [illegible] on Tuesday, from G W. Nye, dated [illegible], Nevada, Nov 9th, requesting him to repair to that place, where a lucrative position [illegible] him.—The regular meeting of the Clarke County [illegible] will be held on Monday the 21st [illegible] o'clock P. M., at the District School House, [illegible]. The Rev Clarke Smith will read an essay [illegible] "Geography," which will be followed by a [illegible] upon the "Teaching of Arithmetic," [illegible] opening the argument. The public [illegible] invited to attend. Over $1,000 were [illegible] the Annual Fair of the Sisters. A railroad [illegible] will be held at Brant's Hall on Saturday Nov [illegible]. The object of the meeting is to get an ex[illegible] of the people's mind on railroad matters, con[illegible] with the interests of Vancouver and Clarke county [illegible] and all! A long pull, a strong pull, and [illegible]

Hams—Butter, Etc.—It has always [illegible] of wonder and discussion that Oregon [illegible], butter, etc., should always fail to arrive in [illegible] a condition as to bring only prices in[illegible] the same articles put up in California or even [illegible] States. It has been attributed to bad [illegible], to tricks of speculators and various other [illegible]. Notwithstanding all that has been said, nearly [illegible] of all the articles above named, is in [illegible] market. There is a reason for it, of course, [illegible] the natural impossibility of making a good [illegible] and hams [illegible] as well—save in trim[illegible] as the product of any other country, [illegible] stand a long voyage nor long keeping, [illegible] a peculiar flavor which depreciates them [illegible]. This ought not to be so; for California [illegible] is not generally so affected. This city buys [illegible], annually, of butter, for instance, [illegible] States or in California, months old when [illegible] always sweet and of good flavor. An [illegible] dealer, in conversing the other day about this [illegible] attributes the inferiority of our bacon, butter, [illegible] almost universal use of inferior salt. He [illegible] all farmers and packers use Carmen Island [illegible] inferior brand of salt—containing more or [illegible] matter, such as alkali, detrimental to the [illegible]. If the first quality of Liverpool were used, he [illegible] that there would be less complaint [illegible] the condition of all those products which [illegible]. As proof of this he mentioned that [illegible] Thomas Cross of Salem and Capt An[illegible] of this city always command the highest market [illegible]. They have always used Liverpool salt, believing [illegible] extra cost is more than regained by the extra [illegible] product; and the result proves that they [illegible]. The character of their meats is as high and [illegible] as that of any other on the coast. Other [illegible] profit by their example.

—The U S Marshal and his deputies [illegible] lively time, yesterday, catching jurors for the [illegible] and Johnson, the mail robbers. They [illegible] about forty men, more or less, before [illegible] could be filled. Whenever they issued from [illegible] room on a juror hunt, business men be[illegible] they didn't wish to speak with the Marshal [illegible] pointed attentions. One gentleman, [illegible] coming up street, whipped around a [illegible] another street at two-forty speed, round [illegible] and out of sight. The Marshal twigged [illegible] and went into ambush behind a corner, [illegible] thinking the coast clear, came around [illegible] Marshal popped out and nipped his game. In another case he found a prominent [illegible] beneath his counter and snaked him [illegible] several other instances where the officers [illegible] resort to strategy to fetch their men and [illegible] created any amount of fun for those who [illegible]

The Mail Robbers.—The trial of John B[illegible] Johnson, indicted for the robbery of the [illegible] Grande last August was begun in the U S [illegible] yesterday. They were arraigned on the [illegible] trial continued till yesterday. The entire [illegible] in empanneling a jury. Sixty men were [illegible] the necessary twelve could be obtained to [illegible] satisfaction of prosecution and defense. The [illegible] were finally taken: S. Williams, J [illegible], E. R. Thompson, L D Swick, J Rogers, J. M. Laughlin, Edward Kuhls, Wm Wad[illegible], [illegible] Brooke, J W Cook and D W Burnside. It also can by it be made considerably thinner and lighter whereas the price is but little above that for common plates. Call and see specimens.
N B —Dentists wishing to secure the office right for Dr G W Cool's Improved Vulcanite Plates can have it made out to them by applying to this office.
N B —To strangers I would say, that a constantly increasing Dental Practice for the last five years in this city will be a sufficient guarantee for them to receive a First-Class and Finished Piece of Work. Numerous testimonials to the same can be given at the office.

The Bitter Fruits of Bad Bitters.—Invalid reader, do you know what nine tenths of the bitter compounds you are solicited by the proprietors to accept as universal panaceas are composed of? Give heed for a moment. They are manufactured from impure [illegible] containing [illegible] all a portion of fusel oil, a poisonous ether as deadly as prussic acid. The basis of the regular tinctures of the Materia Medica is the same. No amount of herbal extracts can ever neutralize the tendency of this pernicious element. The essence of sound Rye thoroughly rectified is the only stimulant which can be safely used as a component of a Tonic, Alterative and anti-bilious medicine, and HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is the only medicinal preparation in the world in which this article is used as an ingredient. Hence the extraordinary effects of this great specific. It gives strength without producing excitement. No other Tonic does this. All the ordinary Bitters flush the face and affect the brain. Hostetter's Bitters diffuse an agreeable calm through the nervous system, promote digestion and produce sleep. No other tonic so quickly revives the exhausted physical energies, restores the appetite and removes the gloom and depression which always accompany the loss of the bodily powers.

Eureka.—Archimedes is said to have uttered this word, on finding out, after long and patient study a method of detecting the adulteration of King Hiero's crown. So many others (after suffering for years with Consumption) have said when they tried NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP and found that it cured them.

Florida.—"The land of flowers" where nature scatters with her generous hand beauty and fragrance, and burdens every zephyr with delightful odors. Such is REDINGTON & CO'S FLORIDA WATER.

Cooper's Balm.—Though it may not be infallible, it will stand the test with any other single compound in the world, and ought to be in the possession of every Family Traveler, Mariner and Boatman. Your own experience is the best testimony that can be had in reference to it, therefore prove it for yourself for it is a remedy to be at hand for every time of need and is, emphatically the PEOPLE'S MEDICINE!

CELEBRATED
SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS.

TO THE CITIZENS OF OREGON:

I BEG LEAVE TO CALL THE ATTENTION OF THE citizens of Oregon to my celebrated AROMATIC SCHIEDAM SCHNAPPS, a medicinal Diet Drink of eminently salubrary qualities manufactured by myself, exclusively at my factory at Schiedam in Holland.

In Gravel, Gout and Rheumatism, in Obstructions of the Bladder and Kidneys, its efforts are prompt, decided, and invariably reliable.

It is now some twenty years since the Proprietor first introduced it to the American public, and during that time he has received over 3 000 letters from physicians, endorsing it as the purest liquor they have ever used in their practice.

It is made from barley of the finest quality selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic juniper berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced on the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers, new settlers, and all unacclimated persons are peculiarly liable—the

SCHIEDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS

Will be found absolutely infallible, while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, stricture, dyspepsia and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac simile of his signature on the label. For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

Are you WEAK, DEBILITATED, NERVOUS? Is your sleep disturbed? Do you have palpitation of the heart or an inclination to melancholy? Diseases of such nature require a prompt DIURETIC, which will be found in

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS 626 AND 627 FRONT ST

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities. CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.
Each package bears the signature of G VENARD.

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

616 KEARNEY STREET NEAR COMMERCIAL San Francisco Established in 1854 for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases such as Gonorrhoea Gleet Stricture Syphilis in all its forms Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated

Horrible Diseases

How many thousands of persons both male and female are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation those sands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents guardians friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life destroying maladies. See that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness

Seminal Emissions the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms unless combatted by scientific medical means viz Sallow countenance dark spots under the eyes pain in the head, ringing in the ears noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots uneasiness about the loins weakness of the limbs confused vision blunted intellect loss of confidence diffidence in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society loss of memory hectic flushes pimples and various eruptions about the face furred tongue fetid breath coughs consumption night sweats monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained should apply immediately either in person or by letter and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating the disease which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of this complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of these fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME, by addressing a letter to Dr Gibbon stating case, symptoms length of time the disease has continued and have at Home promptly forwarded free from ... and directions for use for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders, who, with bogus sworn to certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self styled doctors, whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths shoemakers newspaper carriers intelligence office keepers etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1862 and 1863. The only way to avoid imposition is to make enquiry—it will cost you nothing and may save you many regrets; for, as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus there is no safety in trusting any of them until you know who and what they are. Dr Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus titles certificates, pretended patient's letters etc. Dr Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.
